

Description

Top-floor apartment arranged entirely on one level

The terrace and living room naturally become one shared living space. It is easy to find yourself stepping outside several times a day for morning coffee, lunch, a good book or simply a quiet moment looking out to sea.

The main bedroom has direct access to the terrace, so the day can begin outdoors before the first cup of coffee.

The beach is around a five-minute walk away.

Carvajal train station is approximately 350 metres from the apartment.

That may not sound particularly important at first. On the first hot summer's day, it becomes a feature you appreciate very differently.
