

Description

This exceptional four-storey property offers outstanding versatility, making it an ideal choice for both families seeking spacious, independent living and investors looking to generate attractive rental income.

The ground floor features a spacious garage alongside a charming self-contained loft, perfect for holiday rentals, long-term letting, guest accommodation, or a private home office.

The first floor comprises a fully independent two-bedroom apartment, providing an excellent opportunity for additional rental income or comfortable accommodation for extended family members.

The second floor is dedicated to the main residence, offering three generously sized bedrooms, bright and spacious living areas, and a delightful terrace that enhances the home's natural light and outdoor living experience.

...

