

Description

This charming Spanish country house in Sayalonga/Árchez, Málaga, blends traditional character with modern comfort all set against a backdrop of breathtaking views. The property offers a constructed area of 199 m² and 148 m² of living space spread over two floors, with three bedrooms and two bathrooms ideal for families or guests. Inside, rustic features dominate: exposed wooden beams under whitewashed ceilings add warmth and authenticity to every room. Terracotta tiles emphasize the Mediterranean style and create a harmonious overall aesthetic. A major highlight is the well-thought-out heating solution: a modern pellet stove in the hallway efficiently warms the entire house. Additionally, there's a cosy wood-burning stove in the living room and an infrared panel heater for extra comfort on cooler evenings. The bathrooms also feature electric infrared heaters to ensure a pleasant, warm atmosphere. Both the living room and bedrooms include built-in wardrobes that offer practical storage while blending seamlessly with the style. Plush furniture in warm red tones, decorative mirrors, colourful artworks, and personal collections give the space a relaxed, bohemian vibe. A striking archway connects the interior to one of the terraces...
