

Description

Charming finca with potential in the green heart of Álora

You reach this charming and exceptionally well-maintained property via a dirt road of just 1 km, surrounded by an abundance of plants, flowers, and trees — a true little paradise where peace and nature take center stage.

The final access road to the property is entirely constructed of concrete, and along the way, you pass two gates, ensuring extra privacy and a sense of security. The entire plot is fully fenced.

The spacious plot offers numerous possibilities and is also perfectly suited for keeping horses or other animals.

Here, you enjoy freedom, space, and authentic Andalusian country living.

The property is connected to electricity. Water is supplied via truck delivery. The...
