Description

For those looking for a modern and ready-to-move-in property in Estepona, here is a particularly attractive opportunity. This newly built ground floor apartment is completed and ready to move into, but is now being offered at €395,000 – a very competitive price point for a property with two bedrooms, two bathrooms, private patio and garden, and access to a full range of communal facilities.

Here you get the benefits of new construction without having to wait for construction to start or move in. An opportunity for those who want to make a smart investment in Estepona and at the same time be able to start using your new home immediately.

The home is stylish and thoughtfully designed with a bright living room in an open plan to the kitchen. The layout includes two bedrooms and two bathrooms, with an easily accessible and comfortable design that suits both permanent and holiday living.
