Situated on the first floor of a building with a lift, the property offers three bedrooms and two bathrooms. The principal bedroom benefits from natural light, while the other two are internal rooms. This layout makes the apartment particularly well suited as a private holiday home, for a couple, or for buyers seeking additional flexible spaces that could be used as occasional guest rooms, a home office, dressing room or leisure area.

The heart of the apartment is its bright open-plan living, dining and fully fitted kitchen area, designed to provide a contemporary and functional living space. It also features air conditioning, fitted wardrobes and a private west-facing terrace, ideal for relaxing outdoors and making the most of the Costa del Sol's pleasant climate....
