FANTASTIC INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY IN RURAL TOURISM

Situated in the Sierra de Grazalema Natural Park, right in the heart of the Serranía de Ronda, in a stunning natural setting, ideal for lovers of hiking and observing flora and fauna – with particular highlights including birdwatching and the proximity to natural landmarks such as the Cueva del Gato-Hundidero and the Cueva de la Pileta.

This former family farmhouse was fully restored in 2004 to adapt it for rural tourism, whilst preserving the charm and history of the old houses. It was one of the pioneers in the area and therefore has a long track record.

The estate, which is fully fenced and has a passable internal track, features a natural spring that supplies two wells and a 125,000-litre reservoir. Covering a total area of 103.52 hectares of Mediterranean pastureland, olive groves and organic almond orchards, this place is not only a natural haven but also a source...
