

Description

Set on top floor of the prestigious Aloha Hill Club, a gated residential community in the heart of Nueva Andalucía, this exceptional south-facing penthouse offers a rare blend of space, style, and elevated living.

Step inside and the open-plan living area immediately sets the tone: a fluid, light-filled space where every design decision has been made with intention. The property features bespoke and custom-made carpentry throughout, adding cohesion and architectural refinement to every space.

The kitchen and dining area connect seamlessly with the living room, creating a relaxed space and a bright and welcoming atmosphere. A large cream sofa anchors the living area, facing a modern wall-mounted fireplace that adds warmth and character. Delicate touches of colour, together with the kitchen's dark cabinetry and stone worktops, create a sleek and harmonious space. The kitchen features a central island and premium Miele appliances. A separate laundry room, ensures practicality and discretion in daily living. Floor-to-ceiling...
