

Description

For many buyers, owning a penthouse in Higuerón remains just a dream.

The reason is often simple.

Three-bedroom penthouses in Higuerón can easily exceed €1 million.

But do you really need three bedrooms?

If the property is for a couple living here year-round, or as a holiday home for a family of four, the answer is surprisingly often no.

Instead, it makes more sense to focus on what the property actually offers.

The greatest strength of this recently completed two-bedroom penthouse is its spacious southwest-facing rooftop terrace.
