Description

If you're looking to escape the noise, breathe fresh mountain air and immerse yourself in the true essence of Málaga's Axarquía region, this traditional property is going to win your heart.

Set in the peaceful spot of Casa Mena, in the municipality of Canillas de Aceituno (Málaga), this detached family home built in 1948 perfectly blends the nostalgia of the authentic with incredible potential to become the retreat of your dreams.

???? A Unique and Functional Layout

Cleverly taking advantage of the natural slope of the land, the home offers a wonderfully cosy layout divided into two areas:

Street-Level Floor: As you enter from the Río Bermuza lane, a charming gated entrance welcomes you and leads into a bright living-dining room — the perfect space for family gatherings. This floor also features 3 exterior bedrooms with open views over the surrounding countryside.

Lower Floor: Below street level lies the coolest part of the house, home to a traditional-style kitchen, a bathroom, a handy pantry and an authentic wine cellar — ideal for wine lovers or to convert into a truly unique leisure space....
